Messrs. Betts and Davis spent an hour or so in the Public School on Tuesday forenoon. Mr. Betts kindly addressed the children, and explained the scheme upon which the prizes would be awarded, and as the scheme was one in which each might succeed, he hoped that each would endeavor to be among the prize winners.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society was held on Friday evening last in the Council Chamber. There was a very large gathering of the clans, which showed the deep interest taken in the Society in this place. The treasurer's report was read, which showed a balance in favor of the Society of about $200. The election of officers was next proceeded with, and resulted as follows: John Stewart, President; J. F. A. Stull, Vice President; J. Sanderson, 2nd Vice President; A. H. Clark, Secretary; J. Macarthur, Treasurer; Dr Bain, Physician; Rev. Dr. Jardine, Chaplain; W. Gerrond, Bard. The manner of celebrating St. Andrew's Day was next discussed. Some were in favor of a ball, as the Society had had the two previous years, and some of the older members of the Society preferred a dinner. It was finally decided to celebrate St. Andrew's Day by a dinner, and to have a ball under the auspices of the Society on Burns' anniversary. A special committee consisting of T. N. Campbell, J. McKay, F. C. Baker, A. H. Clark and J. F. A. Stull were appointed to make necessary arrangements for the celebration of St. Andrew's Day. A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring President, Col Sproat, to which that gentleman replied in his usually happy manner.

A short time ago some of the young gentlemen of the east end of our town, desirous of doing something to neutralize their names, enrolled themselves as a body of night detectives. They then set out for the skirmish, and whether under mental delusion or an over dose of the joyful, ran into the east end cattle guard all the bovines they could find. The scene in the morning was very unusual. The ladies all appeared around the guardhouse, and the sweet and smiling faces were more than the guard could withstand, and one by one the quadrupeds were permitted to pass out. Morals: who can withstand the charms of the fair sex.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

Commenting on short railway routes in a recent issue, the Hamilton Spectator has the following interesting article:—"Some days ago we suggested the construction of a railway to serve the valley of the North Saskatchewan and to follow the shortest route to the east, touching the waters of James' bay. It was hardly to be supposed that such a suggestion would be welcomed at Winnipeg. The idea entertained at the city just named is that it is and must be the gateway to the North-west, that all travel and traffic between the Atlantic and the Pacific and between the prairies and the east must pass through Winnipeg and pay tribute as they pass. That is the dream. To suggest that the great and fertile valley of the North Saskatchewan may find a shorter road to the sea and to Europe is "flat blasphemy" to the Winnipeg mind. The Sun, of that city, says the very idea is 'moonshine and not deserving a moment's consideration at the present time." And why not? There are more people in the Saskatchewan now than were in the whole Northwest when the Pacific Railway was begun. Yet we are told that the traffic has grown so great that a second line leading to Winnipeg is necessary, but that it is all moonshine to dream of a second line passing by Winnipeg. Why should not settlers along the Saskatchewan have a short line to the east? Why is it necessary to deflect their trade two hundred miles to the southward so that Winnipeg may take toll of it? We are told that a line from Winnipeg to Hudson bay is practicable and necessary and a charter for such a road has been obtained. Why, then, is it all moonshine to talk of a road from Prince Albert to Hudson bay? The people of Dakota and Minnesota are now able to send their stuff to the east by way of Chicago, and have a water route by way of Duluth; but they are not satisfied, and are seeking a more direct railway route by way of Sault Ste. Marie and through Canada. That is not moonshine, but business, and the like common sense will impel the people of the Saskatchewan to seek the shortest route to their final market. Another consideration connects itself with the new railway problems that have arisen. If free railway communication with the United States is to be opened up, there is no good reason for sending goods from the south to Winnipeg for distribution. Emerson or Gretna may aspire to be the distributing point, with a line leading direct to Western Manitoba at Brandon. If railway competition is to be had it ought to be competition for Manitoba, not a scheme for putting money into the pocket of Winnipeg. If new railways are to be built, Western Manitoba should not rest under the disability of sending its produce all the way round by Winnipeg. Short routes must be built in the interests of the farmers Winnipeg is not the whole of Manitoba. Still less is it the whole of the North west.

Matters are not so bad in this country as they seem to be on the other side of the ocean. The unemployed in London are showing their strength by their numbers. They ask for work to be given them, and no doubt many of them are anxious for something to do, but it always happens in cases of this kind that the criminal class and the vicious class turn out and take part in labor demonstrations and help to swell the crowd. A congested population in Britain usually finds relief by the stream of navigation flowing to the new world. On such occasions always gets her share. At present Canada is not in want of additional immigrants of that class, the labor market being amply supplied. With a long winter about setting in and little provision made for helping those who are already out of employment, the outlook for outside labor as far as Canada is concerned is by no means bright. Sympathy for men out of employment is well enough in its place, but the men themselves would much rather have employment than sympathy.

It has been apparent all along, notwithstanding what is being said by commercial unionists, that the fishery commission will deal only with the fishery question, leaving all such subjects as commercial union to look out for themselves. It is not at all likely that our neighbors will accept any settlement that will require them to pay hard cash for the continued use of the fisheries. When the Halifax award was made, giving Canada five and a half millions of dollars for twelve years' use of the fisheries, the United States paid the bill, but not until it had done a great deal of grumbling, and ever since that time our Yankee cousins have protested that they were swindled in the transaction, but that they will take good care that the cunning Canucks do not get the start of them again. There are plenty of fish in the sea for everybody who desires to catch them, and what is very likely to be the outcome of the sittings of the fishery commission is an agreement that American fishermen shall be permitted to fish within the Canadian three-mile limit on condition that Canadian fish shall be admitted free to the American market. This is something very much less than the unrestricted reciprocity of which we hear so much. It will be unrestricted reciprocity, indeed, but only in fish. Our neighbors can hardly expect to use the Canadian fisheries at pleasure, just as if they were their own, yet they seem to think that Canadians are a debased and barbarous people because they insist in keeping off poachers.

One of the subjects engaging the attention of the provincial premiers in session at Ottawa is the unsatisfactory state of the insolvency laws in Canada. In the matter of insolvent estates each province is a law unto itself. In the old country it is a positive disadvantage to Canadian trade that such should be the case, and it would be a good move for the several provinces to assimilate their laws relating to bankruptcy and thus make up for the absence of an insolvent act from the Dominion statute book. On a subject of this kind the law should be the same for the whole country. Among the Quebec habitants insolvency acts are not looked upon with favor. They argue that no matter what may happen to them in the way of misfortune in business they are obliged to pay one hundred cents on the dollar, whereas merchants and traders can compromise with their their creditors for fifty cents on the dollar and sometimes less. Fifty cents on the dollar is little enough for any bankrupt debtor to pay, and no bankrupt debtor should be given his discharge unless he is able to arrange a settlement on that basis. A man who breaks down in business should not be debarred from trying the second time, but trying the second time should not be so simple a matter as the putting up of the shutters on one store and the taking of them down from another. The proper thing is a Dominion law; failing that, the next best is the assimilation of the provincial laws.

The Northwest Council

Thursday, Oct. 20.

Ordinance respecting bulls given its second reading.

Moved by Mr. Cayley, seconded by Mr. Turriff—That the Dominion Government be requested to submit to the people of the North-West at the fourthcoming election of members to the North-West council or Legislative Assembly, as the case may be, the question of granting either a licence or a total prohibition system to the North-West, and that new legislative action in regard to liquor question be introduced by the Dominion Government upon the result of such vote.

Mr. Haultain moved in amendment that a special committee be appointed to consider the liquor question.

Both motion and amendment declared out of order as proper notice had not been given.

Civil Justice Committee were requested to make a report as to whether the Council has power or not to pass a bill for the protection of railway employees from accident.

Mr. Turriff introduced a bill respecting Agricultural Societies, which was read a first time.

Council went into Committee of the Whole on the bill for the establishing of statute labor districts. An interesting discussion took place on clause 2. Messrs. Secord, Wilson and Haultain claiming that the people should not pe compelled to form such districts unless they wished, and Messrs. Crawford, Ross, Turriff, Sutherland and Jelly contending that people outside of Municipalities should be compelled to keep their roads and bridges. A motion of Mr. Secord's to cancel clause 2 was defeated by a vote of 6 to 9, but it was decided to let the clause stand over.

Judge Richardson thought they could not proceed with the bill as all the other clauses hinged on clause 2, and he pointed out that no provision had been made for the sale of lands of non-residents who did not perform their statute labor.

It was finally decided to refer the bill back to the special committee, for a reconsideration of the whole subject.

Bill repealing certain clauses of Cemetery Ordinance was given its second and third readings and ordered to be engrossed.

Friday, Oct. 21.

All the members present at to-day's session except Judge Rouleau and Messrs. Marshallsay and Bedford.

Mr. Cayley presented a petition from the barristers of Calgary asking that a reduction of at least two-thirds be made in the tariff of fees of the Clerks of Supreme Courts. The petition stated that as high as $1,000 had been collected by the Clerk at Calgary during the past year.

The Lieut.-Governor laid on the table a petition from the people of Pense praying for assistance in sinking a well.

Agricultural Committee reported Statute Labor Bill with changes to meet objections raised yesterday.

Mr. Cayley wished to drop entirely his resolution on the liquor question introduced yesterday. He stated that he wished to have the matter brought up in such a shape that he could present resolutions passed at a public meeting in Calgary.

Upon motion by Mr. Haultain, seconded by Mr. Wilson, Messrs. Turriff, Cayley, Lauder, Hughes, Ross, Jelly, the mover and seconder were appointed a special committee to take into consideration and report on the present state of the liquor law.

A reply from the Dominion Government to the memorial sent last session was laid on the table.

Hughes—Wilson—That the reply to the memorial to the Dominion Government by this Council asking that pensions be granted to the widows and children of the Prince Albert Volunteers killed at Duck Lake be laid on the table.

The Bill incorporating the Gas and Waterworks Company was given its first reading and referred to a special committee.

Lieut.-Governor introduced bill amending Ordinance respecting prairie fires and Commissioners Ordinance of '86.

Council went into Committee of Whole on Statute Ordinance was opposed by Messrs. Secord and Cayley as they wished to have time to submit draft of bill to some Clubs of Calgary and Regina. They were assured that there would be no action it was finally passed. It was settled the end of the year as the time to which was changed back to April 1st. Committee reported [illegible]

[illegible] Committee of whole on bill to amend Ordinance for Protection of Game. In the discussion it was pointed out that geese were very destructive to crops in some districts and they were consequently given no protection under any of the clauses. The committee reported, bill was read a second time and ordered engrossed.

The bill respecting bulls was briefly disposed of in the Committee-of-Whole, reported, read a second time and ordered engrossed.

Bill establishing Statute Labor Districts was discussed at great length in Committee-of-Whole. Bill was so amended that a majority petitioning against the formation of a District would prevent it being proclaimed. School teachers were made subjects to statute labor, and a motion to make clergymen also subjects was defeated by a vote of six to eleven. The committee reported progress and Council adjourned.

Monday, Oct. 24.

Lieut.-Governor, on recommendation of Civil Justice Committee, introduced a Bill to amend and consolidate Ordinance relating to Mortages and Sales of personal property. Read a first time. This bill is to simplify registration of such documents, which the division of the Territories into Judicial Districts had complicated.

Agricultural Committee reported bill respecting Agricultural Societies with amendments, also recommended referring correspondedence respecting legality of Fire Ordinance of '86 to Civil Justice Committee, which was done.

Lieut.-Gov. laid on the table a printed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the General Revenue Fund of the Northwest Territories, also from the Secretary of State an Order-in-Council allowing fines under the Northwest Liquor Law to go to the General Revenue Fund of the Teritories. This last announcement was received with applause as it will add many thousand of dollars to the revenue of the Territories.

Haultain announced intention to introduce a bill to amend the Expenditure Ordinance.

Upon motion by Crawford and Sutherland the Lieut.-Governor was asked to take steps to have the prevention and extinction of prairie fires made one of the special duties of the Mounted Police. His Honor promised to urge the matter upon Commissioner.

Adjourned.

Wednesday, Oct. 25.

Mr. Haultain introduced a bill to amend Exemption Ordinance, which was read a first time.

Mr. Cayley introduced a bill to amend Municipal Ordinance of '85 and '86. Referred to a special committee.

The Lieut.-Governor laid on the table a return of the fees collected by the Clerks of the Supreme Court. It shows the following collections—Eastern Assiniboia, for three and ten days, $346.95; Western Assiniboia, for six months, $965.17; Saskatchewan, no return; Southern Alberta, for one month and thirteen days, $83.80; Northern Alberta, for six months, $940.10.

Council went into Committee of Whole on bill to amend Ordinance for Protection of Game. The committee reported, bill was read a second time and ordered engrossed.

SASKATCHEWAN DIRECTORY!

At the request of a number of influential citizens of the district, I have undertaken on or about the first of 1888, to issue a directory of the District of Saskatchewan.

It will embrace, besides the usual matter contained in such publications, sketches of the rise and progress of the various settlements throughout the district, setting forth their natural resources, and giving a crop report for the year 1887.

It will also contain views of the town of Prince Albert, and of Battleford, an alphabetical list of the actual settlers throughout the district, giving their place of residence as near as possible, and post-office, church, and other directories.

No pains will be spared to make it thoroughly reliable as a source of reference for business men and others.

Advertisements will be inserted at the rate of 10 cts per line, or $7 per page. The subscription price to advertisers will be fifty cents per copy; to those not advertising $1.

Orders for copies of Directory may be directed to Ed. J. Cann or T. N. Campbell, Stationers, Prince Albert.

Orders for advertisements must be directed to

Parties who have not sent in their advertisements, will please do so immediately. Some gentlemen, also, who have kindly promised to contribute articles descriptive of their respective settlements, etc., will please not forget to do so within the next two weeks, or three at the latest.

READ. READ.

The North-West Farmer will be mailed to any address from now to December 31st, 1888, for the regular yearly subscription, price ONE DOLLAR. All present subscribers, when renewing, will be marked up to the same date. New Subscribers will receive premium pictures, "The House Fair" or its companion, "Coming from the Fair," 21 by 27 inches. The Publishers are desirous of placing the FARMER in every home in Manitoba and the North West; hence the liberal offer now made. It is the only Agricultural and Stock Breeder's Journal published in the Canadian North West. It is a 34 page monthly, handsomely got up, and a thoroughly practical farmers' paper. It is divided into departments, and the latest and best information obtainable published.

The departments are:

AMONG THE FARMERS.

Containing descriptions of the farms (stock and agricultural) visited during the month.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.

Containing the news of the latest doings of the different agricultural societies.

LIVE STOCK.

Veterinary Department—In which all veterinary questions will be answered free of charge by a prominent Veterinary Surgeon.

The Dairy.
Poultry and Pet Stock.
Editorial.
The Field.
Grain and Milling.
The Garden and Forestry.
Game and Sport.
Books, etc., received.
Exchange Mart.
Chats with Readers.
Questions and Answers.
The Household.
The Markets.

These departments are supplied by thoroughly competent men, who are either themselves practical farmers or obtain their information by a close association with the best farmers in the country. Its original articles are copied by the best agricultural papers in the United States and Canada, and it is admitted by all to be the most reliable source of information on all facts of interest to the settler. To outsiders who wish to get posted on things as they are on the Red River and its tributaries, the cheapest and safest guide is the North-West FARMER, whose travelling correspondent has admittedly a more thorough acquaintance with the pioneer farmers than any other in the country.

The Board then adjourned.

On Wednesday evening last, at St. Paul's church, Lindsay, an unusually pleasing event took place. Two of the daughters of Mr. Foulds—Flora and Sarah—were united in the happy bonds of wedlock, the former to Mr. J. Brown, of the South Branch, and the latter to Mr. S. Leask. Mr. Brown and his bride were supported through the ceremony by Mr. Horace Adams and Miss Foulds, sister of the bride, and Mr. Leask and his bride by Mr. M. McLaughlin and Miss Annie Adams. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Flett. Quite a number of our citizens were present, who say the presents were numerous and beautiful. We extend our best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Leask, and trust this is only a foreshadowing of the future of our country cousins' good sense.
